

Transcript

Editorial comments:

SP 12/136/28 f. 72r - 73v. Randall Hurleston to William Herle. The letter-writer signs himself as 'Hurleston', but he also seems to be known as 'Huddleston'.

Address leaf:

[fol. 73v]

[Superscription:] To his worshippfull and very frynde Master Herle geve theis.

[Endorsement by Herle:] From Master Randall Hudd[leston] a cowncellor in the Temple. /

Letter text:

[fol. 72r] Master Herle So well the berer hereof hath divers tymes bene in hand with me to entreate yow be to good unto him, and as I perceve by his owne speche it is a thinge superfluous, and yet nevertheles for the satisfienge of his desire I praie yow contynue your good will towards him, and the rather at my request I thincke the man to be verie honest, and therfore yow maye be the more bolde to comende him if oportunytie serve./ I have knowen him famylyarlie these sixe or seven yeres, and by all that tyme have not knowen or harde any thinge dishonest in him and thus muche I thought convenyent to wryte unto yow in his behalf wherof I pray yow take some care for his furtherance And if I maie stande yow in steade I will be redie to gratyfie yow to the uttermoost of my power. And thus I comytt yow to the trycon of the Almightye from the Temple Inne. this xxth daie of feb. 1579. Your lovinge frynde Ran Hurleston.